Research involving human beings as participants must have Institutional Review Board (IRB) approval prior to conducting any research activity. HawkIRB is the web-based application review system used by the University of Iowa IRB. The Human Subjects Office offers a two-part training series on how to complete forms in the HawkIRB system. These training sessions provide basic information about technical aspects of the HawkIRB system and guidance about responses to specific questions in the HawkIRB forms.

Visit the Human Subjects Office website for a complete listing of HawkIRB Training Sessions for the Spring 2016 semester.
