Speaker Profiles

Judith Birk, JD, is the director, IRBs and assistant director, HRPP, at the University of Michigan Medical School (IRBMED), an AAHRPP-accredited institution. She is responsible for daily operational oversight and regulatory compliance of the five IRBs within IRBMED. Ms. Birk serves on numerous policy, compliance, ethics, and regulatory committees in support of the University of Michigan's HRPP. She is also responsible for developing innovations and regulatory flexibility projects to reduce regulatory burdens and increase IRB efficiencies. From 2003 to 2012, she was the director of the health sciences and behavioral sciences IRBs at the University of Michigan and has also held other positions in research and clinical support capacities at the institution.

Bruce Gordon, MD, is assistant vice-chancellor for regulatory affairs, and professor of pediatrics at the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC). Dr. Gordon has been a member of the UNMC institutional review board since 1992, served as chair since 1996, and as executive chair since 2011. He has served on a variety of national committees and task forces, including the Secretary's Advisory Committee on Human Research Protections Subpart A Subcommittee. He was the first chair of the National Cancer Institute Pediatric Central IRB; currently serves on the Board of Directors for PRIM&R; has been a faculty member at every ARENA/PRIM&R national meeting since 2002; and was the co-chair for the 2009 AER Conference. He is an active participant in PRIM&R's "At Your Doorstep" educational programs and co-developed the "Collaborating for Compliance" workshop, "IRB Chairs Boot Camp" program, and the "Vulnerable Subjects" program. Dr. Gordon is a founding member of the Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative (CITI); the author of two modules for the Human Subjects Research course; and co-developed the "Research Involving Vulnerable Subjects" course; and the author of numerous original papers, chapters, review articles, and abstracts regarding research ethics and protection of human research subjects.
